SAGE CONSULTING SERVICES LAUNCHES WEB SITE

WILMINGTON, MA – December 1, 2003 – Sage Consulting Services is pleased to announce the official launch of its web site, www.sage-cs.com. The launch coincides with the kick-off of a major corporate identity campaign, including the introduction of a new logo and comprehensive marketing materials.

With an extensive “Resources” section, contemporary appearance, and user-friendly features, the site provides visitors with access to interesting topical business and management articles, links and information. The site will serve as a resource for customers and the public-at-large.

“Web sites offer the most value when they provide visitors with information beyond standard promotional content,” comments Barbara Alevras, Principal at Sage Consulting Services. “Plans to add more resources and value to the web site are in the works. Look for more improvements in the months to come.”
